

Terms and Conditions

1. The Director, Confucius Institute at University of Mumbai reserves the right to deny admission to any applicant, to discontinue the enrollment of any student whose personal actions are detrimental to the Confucius Institute, University of Mumbai community or are in violation of any applicable code of conduct, and to require the withdrawal of a student whose continuance at the Confucius Institute at University of Mumbai would be detrimental to himself or herself or to others. It is the responsibility of students to become familiar with the academic regulations and procedures relating to their courses of study at the Confucius Institute at University of Mumbai.
2. In general, enrollment in courses at the Confucius Institute at University of Mumbai is contingent upon meeting all course prerequisites, completing enrollment and registration procedures and requirements, and fulfilling any other applicable requirements; and is subject to space availability in your selected courses.